Carrying children in true Christmas fashion, the Dionne quintuplets are sent off to bed, to dream of reindeer and Pere Noel's sleigh and all the marvelous gifts the jolly old man will leave on his visit to the nursery tonight. As they trudged up the stairs Annette had a little trouble. She'll just sit right down and wait until Santa comes. But she's finally persuaded to go up to bed.

Bulletin Finds Homes For 25 Wee Kiddies In Alberta Families

Twenty-five—count 'em—twenty-five.

Twenty-five Alberta homes have been gladdened this Christmas by the greatest gift of "You Bulletin boys can sure sell places," said C. B. Hill, chief placing officer of the Child Welfare and Mothers Allowances branch of the Alberta government today. Mr. Hill was reporting that due to Bulletin publicity he had placed twenty-five babies in Alberta homes this Christmas.

"It was caused the plenty of trouble," he smiled. "For sixty nights I had hardly any sleep. Even late last night I was up and down, and I was in from people who saw the babies. The Bulletin and wanted to make enquiries and during the day my boys in good Alberta homes where they'll be given twenty-five to grow up fine citizens."

They were all exceptional babies, and the people taking them to get them were of the best. They will be one of the best Christmas gifts to report that the new parents took to the babies. Farmers' Found Poisoned In Home Beside Dead Mate

Son Sees Father Kill Mother, Then Flees To Neighbors—Nik Senelinka Is Found Suicide By Police

CASTOR, Dec. 24.—Nik Senelinka, 65-year-old Castor district farmer, took his own life with poison and was found lying on the floor of his farm home, 18 miles southeast of here, beside the body of his 60-year-old wife, whom he had slain shortly before noon Thursday.

The bodies were found late Thursday by Royal Canadian Mounted Police from the Vegreville and Cammerton detachments, who were called on the scene of the double tragedy by neighbors, who had learned from the aged couple's son, Roy, that his father had murdered his wife.

Senelinka, who is described as a man of violent temper and subject to "fits" and who has been twice with a rifle, it was reported. An attempt was made to revive him, but he died shortly after he was found.

Senelinka, who has been living apart from his wife, approached the body of his wife, where his wife was lying. He was found by the police. The first shot was fired through the window missed his wife. He was reported to be a man of violent temper and subject to "fits" and who has been twice with a rifle, it was reported.

Woeful Absence Understanding Is Reply of Premier

shall not be on the radio for two or three weeks, I thought, I might as well answer the questions through the medium of the daily papers.

TO EACH QUESTION
I append herewith a categorical answer to each of the five questions.

(1) Which government, the federal or provincial, has exercised credit control up to this time?

Neither federal nor provincial has exercised credit control. The financial institutions have the monopoly of credit control today.

When Prime Minister King was pleader for election in 1935, he made the statement, until the control of currency and credit is restored to the government, all talk of sovereignty of parliament and democracy is idle and futile.

This restoration, you must know, has never been made as yet. Your question indicates a woeful lack of understanding of the present financial system.

(2) Is it possible for the Dominion government to have control of credit at one and the same time, just as truly as it is possible for both governments to control their own credit at one and the same time, just as truly as it is possible for both governments to reduce purchasing power by two methods of taxation and to cut down on expenditure and cancel it at one and the same time.

If Alberta were to assume control of its own credit, would not all the other provinces want to do the same, and if they did what would happen to Confederation?

I should expect that as soon as the other provinces saw the wonderful effects of the control of the pro-vince's credit, they would all desire it. But that would have no effect on Confederation, any more than the fact that each province desires and controls its own financial system has an effect except to strengthen it. I am satisfied that no one who understands our financial system would suggest that if each province had its own bank, the Confederation would be destroyed. How then would the issue of our own credit affect Confederation? Surely to one would plead that the present system of borrowing money by each province at the rate of interest is essential to Confederation. I fear that the United Canada Association does not fully understand what is involved in the issue and control of our own credit. The next question reveals this most definitely.

(3) How does the premier therefore square his protestations that he does not want to destroy Confederation, with the demands he makes for a privilege for this province which if granted would end Confederation?

This question is based on a false premise, and as such is out of order. The control and issuance of our credit is not in the hands of the province. My protestations regarding Confederation were only made when some, without any evidence, made charges which were unfair and unwarranted.

(4) Would Premier Aberhart hold to the province of Alberta the power to control its own credit if he were Prime Minister of Canada and if he says he would, how would his finance minister under that circumstance maintain the value of the Canadian dollar in relation to monetary standards of other nations with whom Canada must trade?

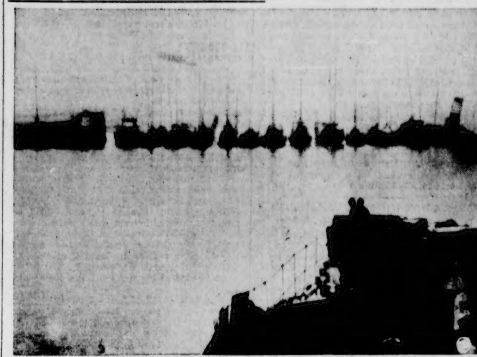

There is no intention of inflation whatever. Therefore the value of the Canadian dollar in relation to the monetary standards of other nations would be dependent largely upon our balance of trade with them.

generally. If we have no goods to export for the goods we have imported, our dollar will go down in value.

The issuance and control of credit is not under total production. As long as the total price of the available goods are equal to the total purchasing power of the people, the value of the dollar will remain steady owing to the operation of compensating price. If we balance production with purchasing power, there is nothing to fear. This question is fully discussed in the latest and most modern books on economics. There would be no difficulty whatever along the line indicated. I am sure there would be less danger than there is under the present system of issue and control of credit by financial institutions who base their operations on their own individual advantage and profit rather than on the welfare of all the people.

One thing I repeat that these questions show lack of comprehension of the whole subject and I shall not take the time to answer any further ones of a similar nature.

Junk Pile Blockades River

Remembering the part the Japanese navy has played in the invasion of China, the retreating defenders made desperate efforts to prevent the fleet from assisting troops in the advance on Nanking following the fall of Shanghai. This is what Japanese warships found when they attempted to advance up the Huangpu—a fleet of junks strung across the river to block the way. The barrier was soon cleared away, however.

JAPAN REPLY ON PANAY EXPECTED

TOKYO, Dec. 24.—High officials of the Japanese army and navy last night conferred with United States Ambassador Joseph G. Grew in efforts to frame a reply that would meet the United States demands for full answers for the sinking of the gunboat Panay.

It was indicated authoritatively the reply, probably in two sections, would be presented today and Saturday, and that it would meet all points of the American representations on the sinking of the little warship on the Yangtze river Dec. 12 by Japanese warships.

MILITARY ASSUMES INDUSTRY CONTROL

SHANGHAI, Dec. 24.—The Chinese government centered control over private enterprise in the hands of the military affairs commission, headed by General Chiang Kai-Shek, as a move to prosecute the war.

In a decree adopted at Chungking, provincial capital, the government gave the military affairs commission dictatorial control over industry and agriculture for duration of the conflict.

Death was decreed for employers or workers who try to resist by closing their enterprises or engaging in strikes.

Particularly affected are metals, combustibles, cement, alcohol, rubber, electrical equipment, foods, vegetables, oil, cotton, hemp, silk, paper, tea, salt, sugar, paints and lumber.

African Dam To Save Stock In Vast Area

CAPE TOWN, Dec. 24.—Men are working in the summer sunshine at Kaikfontein, Orange Free State, converting a 40 square miles of sun-scorched plain into a scrubbed plain. The job will last about two years and will result in the creation of a dam of 800,000,000 gallons capacity, the second largest dam in South Africa.

The water will quench the thirst of an area between Koffiefontein and Paarlsmouth, sometimes as hot as an oven, where, in one year of droughty success 1937, 1,000,000 head of small stock died, farmers were ruined, prices rocketed and effect on the rest of the country is severe.

Five Are Hurt In Cairo Riots

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 24.—A clash between supporters of King Farouk and Premier Mustapha Nahas Pasha injured five persons last night as the deadlock in the King-Premier struggle for power continued.

The disturbance occurred outside the opera house where Farouk attended a charity performance. Followed by the demonstrators.

Cries of the tense political battle, the Kings insistence that the blue-shirted group, 24,000 strong, of Nahas' Wafdists (Nationalists) be disbanded, still was unresolved.

Soviet Official Out Of Office

MOSCOW, Dec. 24.—Another high Soviet official, V. I. Ivanoff, of the timber industry, was out of office Thursday because production from Russian forests failed to furnish as planned and he was believed to be already in jail. Disclosure of Ivanoff's removal came with announcement that 14 timber firms have been sentenced to death in the Soviet "purge" of alleged saboteurs. Ivanoff was particularly blamed for failures in the national economy.

TRUCK BREAKS THROUGH ICE: MAN ESCAPES

Leyton Milton, Rocky Mtn. House, Manages to Survive Ice Waters

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Dec. 24—Leyton Milton, local truck driver, narrowly escaped drowning in the icy waters of the North Saskatchewan river, near here, Wednesday night, when his heavily loaded truck broke through the ice, so he was attempting to cross the frozen surface with a load of freight.

Milton leaped from the cab of the truck as the ice crumbled beneath the heavy load, and after struggling in the icy torrent for several minutes managed to pull himself to safety. His clothes from stiff and exhausted from the exertion of his fight against the drifting weight of his heavy winter clothing in the fierce current, he dragged himself to the house of O. Thompson, ferryman, who lives 200 yards from where the truck crashed through the ice.

The truck was completely submerged and during the night the river broke down but the current shifted the vehicle. A gang of men working nearly all day Wednesday, managed to chop the ice and pull the truck back to the bank.

This is the second time in three weeks that Milton's truck has crashed through the ice. The first time it sank in shallow water and was extricated without difficulty.

LONDON CHEERED AS LAST DAY IN SHOPS REACHED

By I. NORMAN SMITH
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Dec. 24—Bis of blue sky and sunshine cheered London's shoppers today as they entered the narrowing struggle in streets and stores jammed with Christmas crowds for the last time this year.

It has been a great Christmas season. In the newspapers every page carries a "how record" story on business handled by railways, mails, banks, shops, florists, book-sellers, airways, footstuffs and resorts.

Churches have full weekend services while the British Broadcasting Corporation plans special festive programs featured by the King's message to the empire.

Some idea of the amount of food-stuffs pouring into the city may be indicated by one week's arrival of 1,100,000 boxes or crates of apples, peaches, oranges and pears. A reporter sought to estimate the amount of food sold in London's Smithfield market, but received only a large smile and a Christmas greeting—and that English understatement.

In editorial newspapers present the historic and religious side of Christmas, proceeding to draw a parallel or moral for contemporary times. The Times said: "Today, as yesterday, the world may seem, there is no change in the potency of Christmas."

Minute animals, almost microscopic in size, are the chief food of the whale.

WAY SOUGHT PUT TEETH IN JAP BOYCOTT

International Peace Campaign Approves Measure in Principle

GENEVA, Dec. 24—The international peace campaign today opened a study of the best way to put teeth into an economic boycott of Japan.

Boycott measures were approved by the organization's executive committee meeting in special session in London last week. The executive also decided to convene the 30 international affiliates of the international peace campaign to a boycott conference to be held in London Feb. 2.

A report of Japan's foreign commerce and finances, published by the group, revealed Great Britain, the United States, India and France absorb together 80 per cent of all Japanese exports. The same countries furnish Japan with 47.6 per cent of its imports.

The Japanese merchant marine companies only 4.4 per cent of the world total commercial shipping tonnage, the report said, while more than 400 per cent of all vessels that pass through Japanese customs are non-Japanese—and a third of these fly the British flag.

Firemen Have Jolly Time At Chicago Blaze

CHICAGO, Dec. 24—Thirty firemen had a jolly good time fighting a 5000 blaze in the Hamilton club. They would have had a lot more fun if Battalion Chief Anthony Durkin, worried over their long absence hadn't gone to the scene.

Durkin found five men patting out the fire. The other 25, however, were in the club gymnasium riding mechanical horses, performing on horizontal bars and flying rings and exercising with Indian clubs.

Gift Giving Is New Pleasure For Trainees

CALGARY, Dec. 24—Many young men and women this year are giving Christmas gifts who in the past years have been denied this pleasure.

They are trainees in the urban training centres under the dominion-provincial youth rehabilitation plan. For 10 days they have been busy making presents for their families and friends.

The gifts consist of small pieces of furniture, metal articles, ash trays and pieces of knitting and fancy work by the trainees.

Before leaving for Edmonton last night, J. H. Ross, provincial director of the rehabilitation project, told of the happy Christmas afforded the trainees in all centres.

Teacher Flying North For Yule Holiday Season

Carrying one passenger, Miss M. L. Smith, English school teacher, who is teaching at Edmonton, under the teachers' exchange system, and who is going to spend the Christmas holidays with her family at Fort Smith, Pilot Malowee Kennedy, of MacKenzie Air Service, took off from the Edmonton airport Thursday, and is expected to arrive in Goldfields early Friday afternoon. Besides the passenger, he carries a load of Christmas freight and mail.

Kennedy arrived in from the north early Thursday with several passengers: R. W. Watson, J. Milligan, Ken Hemmell, H. Bowen, D. Bowen, C. Henderson and J. Alton. Stan McMillan and Archie McMiller are reported storm bound at Simpson. Bob Randall is north, bound from McMurray, and Gil McLaren is northbound from McMurray to Goldfields.

Motorist Finds Parcels Parked On Auto Bumper

Strangest occurrence of the year was reported by police Friday.

Late Thursday afternoon Ed Rinde of Brudenheim, walked into the police station, lodging three large parcels.

"These," announced Ed, "are not mine. I left my car parked on a downtown street for a couple of hours, and when I returned I found them parked on the bumper. Some kid is going to need those for Christmas."

Police are holding the parcels for the owner, who may have them by identifying them and telling police where he left them. It is believed that some hurried shopper left them on Rinde's car mistaking it for his own.

SANTA'S GIFT $12,000 HOME FOR WIDOW, 4

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 24—The chimney that Santa Claus slides down tonight for Mrs. Harry Brickett will be surrounded by a $12,000 house, a gift for a mother of four, widowed by an automobile accident.

And it will be a gift from a woman she doesn't know, the mother of the youth who drove the car that killed Mrs. Brickett's husband and daughter.

George, 20-year-old son of Mrs. J. D. Bair of Dormont, Pa., drove a friend's car, along a suburban highway last Jan. 17. A tire blew out, the machine swerved and struck Brickett and his 17-year-old daughter, Rita. They died instantly.

Last month a jury acquitted young Bair of a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

But, thinking the matter over quietly in her home as the Christmas season approached, Mrs. Bair decided she had a moral responsibility. So she instructed her lawyers to deed the property over as a trust for Harry Brickett's four fatherless children and their mother.

Big News Breaks! Contest Winners Announced today

of those who took part in the contest.

1.—This competition is open to everyone with the exception of Edmonton Bulletin employees and their families.

2.—Each competitor must have the complete series of puzzle drawings (50 in all) and PRINT (not written) in the space provided for the answers. Each puzzle submitted must be an original, clipped from The Edmonton Bulletin; tracings will not be accepted.

3.—A contestant may only submit ONE SET OF ANSWERS. (A set consists of the puzzles numbered from 1 to 50).

4.—The exact wording, punctuation, etc., of the "Trade Name" or "Slogan" used for an answer must be given as it appears in the official list or the answer will be judged incorrect.

5.—The distribution of prizes will be made, based on retail value, in the following order:

6.—Competitors must strictly follow instructions.

7.—The decision of the Contest Editor in judging answers, awarding prizes, shall be final. In case of ties, measures will be considered.

8.—No correspondence can be undertaken regarding the puzzles or prizes and no information will be given over the telephone.

9.—Rule 4 in the above list is perhaps the most important, for it was the failure to observe this rule which resulted in the elimination of many competitors.

10.—EXACT WORDING AND PUNCTUATION was not given by a large number of the puzzle winners.

A special staff was engaged in sorting out answers and in the actual judging was done by Chartered Accountants, assisted by Howard I. Watson, circulation manager for The Edmonton Bulletin. Thomas J. Watson, manager of The Bulletin's advertising department, conducted the competition.

SPECIAL STAFF

Here is how the judging was done:

1.—As entries were opened by the special staff, the 50 puzzles clipped from The Bulletin in accordance with the instructions were stamped under the supervision of the staff.

2.—This step was completed before judging commenced.

3.—Answers were then judged for correct wording and placed in separate bins according to the number found right.

4.—Entries with the highest number of correct wordings were then checked for punctuation, capitalization and spelling of letters, as provided for under Rule 4. It was in this respect that a large number of contestants lost out.

5.—Entries containing the fewest mistakes were then arranged in the order of the number of correct wordings and then judged for punctuation and spelling and were then placed in the printing of answers.

6.—After this procedure was completed, winners were listed in order of prize winning.

DUE TO MISTAKES

With reference to the elimination of contestants due to mistakes, the judges make the following explanation:

Some contestants had the wording in the answers to the puzzles correct, but had mistakes in punctuation and spelling. In some cases, spelling and punctuation were considered in arriving at the final list.

For the purposes of judging, incorrect solutions were considered as major errors; misspelled words and mistakes in punctuation were considered as minor errors.

Here is an example of the effect this on the judging:

Three wrong answers and two correct answers were judged as three wrong answers. But in judging as between those having three wrong answers, contestants having one major and two minor errors were ranked above those having two major and one minor error.

IN EVERY DETAIL

Solutions appearing beneath the puzzle pictures and the solutions printed on the separate answer sheet had to correspond exactly in every detail. That is, they had to be correct in trade name, slogan, etc., as well as to punctuation and capitalization.

Some contestants used all capital letters in printing their answers to the puzzles. This eliminated them as the answers had to be exactly the same as the official answers printed in The Bulletin.

Contestants were required to submit all the puzzle pictures—containing their solutions—to the contest editor. Those containing their solutions to each of the puzzles. In some cases contestants failed to submit all of the fifty puzzle pictures. They were eliminated as failing to comply with the contest conditions.

WIDE INTEREST

Proof of the widespread interest taken in The Edmonton Bulletin "Puzzle Contest" is shown by the fact that solutions were received from all parts of the province.

A total of 57 prizes are being awarded winners in the contest, as going to competitors residing in Edmonton, Red Deer, Calgary, Poncha, Wetaskiwin, Leduc, Camrose, Leduc, Medford, Edmonton, Stettin, Lacombe, and Drumheller.

China's Loss in Property Damage $750,000,000

MILLS, CROPS HOMES SHARE IN WRECKAGE

Item of Loss Takes No Account of Citizens Killed, Unemployed

SHANGHAI, Dec. 24.—Nearly six months of Japanese invasion have cost China at least $750,000,000 (Canadian) in physical property damage. Millions have shared this loss, in shattered homes, destroyed factories, ruined crops.

This item is easiest to reckon in the sum of China's staggering losses, perhaps one of the least important. It takes no account of the scores of thousands of non-combatants killed, of the dislocation of industry and trade, rampant unemployment and starvation of more acres of thousands, or the loss of territory.

BRITISH LOSS
Moreover, it does not include the scores of millions of dollars lost by British and other foreigners in the fighting in Shanghai, in the nearly $100,000,000 loss to Japanese interests in the destruction of mills and other property.

A large proportion of the damage was done by China's own soldiers, who at Shanghai and in their retreat up the Yangtze valley, following the policy of "scorched earth," broke fire—"seeking to leave nothing of use to the invader."

LOSSES SUMMARY
Surveys largely made by foreign agencies, resulted in this summary of Chinese property loss:

Industrial damage at Shanghai	$58,000,000
Other destruction in Shanghai	$60,000,000
Damage to other Chinese provinces, of which four-fifths was to Shanghai	$25,000,000
Damage to other Chinese provinces, nearly all agricultural	$20,000,000
Total	$163,000,000
It will take at least $250,000,000 to rebuild the Chinese mills and factories, bombed, burned and wrecked in Shanghai, the nation's great industrial centre.

What's New On The RECORDS

BEING A REVIEW OF THE BEST NOW BEING TRANSCRIBED FOR GRAMOPHONES

By JOHN OLIVER
New Victor records to hand show a widely varied selection of numbers and a diversity of artists, combined with an excellence of mechanical reproduction that make them an entirely creditable asset to any library.

At this season of the year when the big orchestras such as the New York Philharmonic are to be heard regularly, there is an increasing demand to hear them on the records.

Thus, it is found that new records of the higher class are meeting with increasing favor.

Especially Humphreys, born in 1854, in 1937 produced what has proved to be the most popular Christmas grand opera of all time, namely Hansel and Gretel.

Based on the popular fairy tale of the same name, Humphreys' opera is frequently played in the opera houses of the world during the Christmas season.

Humphreys, one of the greatest masters of orchestration of modern times and professor of this most advanced musical art at one of the leading German conservatories during part of his career, utilized full melodies to some extent in his score and glided the whole with the mastery of orchestral writing that was his to a highly developed degree.

The overture to this charming, beautiful and perennially popular opera is played by the British Broadcasting Company Symphony Orchestra, conducted by London, Eng., and Major Ralph Peto and his bride, the former Princess Lichnowsky, and thereby hangs a tale. The princess and the major were wedded 37 years ago, but she gave him up and married Prince Lichnowsky, German ambassador to England at the outbreak of the war. The prince died in 1923, and recently the major met his princess on the French Riviera. He proposed, she said "yes," and so they were married.

Entreaty For Spirit of Unity, Bennett Message

OTTAWA, Dec. 24.—The Christmas message to the Canadian people from Mr. J. H. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, was a plea for unity. His message, released last night, follows:

St. Nicholas was surely the most imaginative of all legendary figures. Who else was versed to touch the heart of the proud as of the meek with the same magic stroke of genius? Who is coming is awaited in joy and ecstacy with the same eagerness and anticipation? No doubt of this realm is passed on Christmas eve. The children of his empire have no nationality.

This above all years is one in which the spirit of Christmas should carry a deep significance to Canadians. We are freed for the moment from the greater anxieties besetting the people of so many parts of the world, but within our borders we have petty dissensions and differences.

My earnest hope as a Canadian is that at this season, hallowed by the story of Bethlehem, we may search for the true meaning of Christmas and find in it some symbol of unity and strength. Indeed, we may find in it the true Canadian spirit. My faith in our Dominion is expressed in the words of the prophet of old: "Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; for the Lord will do great things."

On many farms even if the owner is on relief, automobiles are considered a necessity. While the farmer has many miles from town where power has replaced horses and in emergencies, where illness strikes and medical aid is needed.

Distinct relief administrators decide whether a relief farmer should turn in his car license plates.

The regulations are where a farmer can show that either the automobile or truck is necessary in farming and only used for that purpose, he may retain his license plates. If a car is to be used for pleasure only, no relief will be granted until its license plates are turned in.

"We have no money to spend for pleasure," was the comment of one drought area farmer who lives 20 miles from the nearest town.

"With a wagon a trip to town and back would take two days; there would be feed for the horses with a stop over of one night in town. It would be more expensive than using a few gallons of gasoline."

Tots' Railways
MOSCOW, Dec. 24.—Following a successful experiment the Soviet government is building 20 railways at various points, each about a mile long, for children only and to be operated by children.

Designed to be attached to car heaters now in use, a new unit injects vaporized steam instead of hot water into the heater.

There are few more popular or more appealing vocalists than the sweet-voiced Irish tenor, John McCormack. For many years he has been numbered among the outstanding artists and among the few who could be counted on to fill Carnegie Hall, New York, for a recital.

A recent release is a double-sided record of Meloy's "The Kerry Dance" and the Moore-Lambert "She Is Far From the Land." None excel McCormack in singing such a number as "The Kerry Dance." His temperament and his voice are admirably suited to this type of song.

On the other side of the picture, "She Is Far From the Land" gives him ample opportunity to display the limpid quality of his voice, the deep emotion for which he is justly noted.

The tenor is accompanied by an excellent orchestra conducted by an excellent conductor, famous Irish composer and conductor, who has been most renowned by his leading of the orchestra at the famous Sadlers Wells Theatre.

This record has not been remade since the time of mechanical recording, when it was a tremendous favorite. The new recording, in flames and shows Victor at its best.

I.S.-Alaska Air Route Said Hitting Snags Here

LINE ACROSS CANADA HELD ALL-CANUCK

Washington Said Annoyed At Delay In Assent To Cross Dominion

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A New York Herald Tribune today says that the United States government plans for a regular airmail route connecting the United States with Alaska, a commercial proposition but beset by a strong opposition with national officials, has run into difficulties with Canada it was learned today.

Because the planes must fly over Canadian territory unless they keep out over the sea, permission of the Dominion government is required. The failure of Ottawa to assent has delayed the project here and caused something of a furor among interested American officials.

DANGER IN EAST

There is the more irritation since serious danger in the far east has emphasized the military necessity of maintaining steady communication between the United States and Alaska and building up this route, which is vital for the defense of the United States. The view here is that Canada stands in the way of the project, but in this very development.

In certain official circles the opinion is expressed that the British government, in London, is responsible for the hitch.

Commercial dialogue over the established American Trans-Pacific plane service is reported to have led to British insistence on the importance of a British northern route to the Orient, thus route to connect across Canada with the Trans-Atlantic route.

The present proposed connection of the United States to Alaska would not cut all the lines between the Pacific route under American control. It is pointed out.

PLANS DELAYED
Diplomatic talks between Washington and Ottawa have failed to straighten out the tangle, with the result that mail planes are indefinitely delayed.

Officials here cite the fact the United States has given Canada permission to fly to planes over a portion of Maine as a commercial link between Halifax and Montreal. It is apparently Canada's intention, however, that it should control the Trans-Canadian part of any air connection between the United States and Alaska.

Canada has cited the establishment of their own mail service as a condition.

Sculptors Transforming Doorway To Canadian Parliament

Under steady chipping of pneumatic chisels, plain blocks of stone which have marked the main entrance to Canada's parliament building in Ottawa for the past 18 years are being steadily transformed into intricate sculptured design. The six men working at it—and most have worked abroad as well as here—are convinced the result will be comparable to the most beautiful doorways of Europe. Main feature of the doorway design is a bald bearing the provincial coat-of-arms on a background of Canadian tree leaves and fern fronds.

A smaller band embodies the Tudor rose maple, shamrock, thistle, lily and Canadian birds. A life-size lion on one side and a unicorn on the other bear the coat-of-arms of Great Britain and Canada. The lion is shown crouching at left, and unicorn at the right. Work on the archway, shown in the center, has been proceeding all summer and is expected to be completed early next year. C. Soucy and C. de L. McCarthy, both noted sculptors, are in charge of the work.

from there to Nome and to northern Alaska via the Alaskan coast, which is in the Canadian Yukon, where it is a short flight to Alaska. An American route to the north would start from Montana and operate to Lethbridge and then to the projected Edmonton-Lethbridge stub of Trans-Canada Airlines.

MONTREAL, Dec. 24.—One crumpled revolver slug was the only clue last night by police investigating the slaying of Joseph S. Benoit, 40-year-old caddy and tobacco "jobber," shot by two men in view of his gun while protecting the contents of his strongbox.

Traffic Tunnel Earns Its Keep
NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The $400,000 Lincoln vehicular tunnel, which joins mid-town New York and New Jersey, began to earn its keep Wednesday as it was opened to the public. Morning rush-hour business was brisk and the evening peak-load showed no drop. The tunnel was dedicated Tuesday.

BRIDGE LEAGUE AT THE HAGUE GAINS POWERS

Stronger Organization Is Due to Clarify Situation, Once Muddled

THE HAGUE, Dec. 24.—International bridge between bridge players of the world will reach a higher degree of organization than heretofore when the program of the International Bridge League is completed.

The International Bridge League has obtained a place of greater importance as a result of the merger of the two major bridge organizations of the United States into a single group. This has led to fuller co-operation between organized bridge in the United States and Europe, so that a basis for complete understanding has been reached between the two continents.

Preliminary arrangements, which will remain in force until Sept. 1, 1938, were described by W. E. Krieger, honorary secretary of the International Bridge League, European division, whose headquarters are here.

COUNCIL OF FIVE SET UP
Under this provisional arrangement the council of the European division of the league will consist of five members. The same number will make up the council of the American division, representing North and South America. These two divisions are working under the direction of a superior council.

The league will be considered at the annual meeting of the European division of the league next June in Oslo, Norway.

The program now drawn up contemplates that the International Bridge League shall consist of associations, founded on a purely national basis for each country. The league shall consist of two divisions, European and American, each with other organizations. Each shall only recognize the other and refuse to deal with other organizations.

Every two years a congress will be held alternately in the United States and in Europe.

It is proposed further that the league recognize the Olympic movement, promoted by the Pontiac Club, the White Club of New York and the Commission Française du Bridge are to be adopted as official. In the future any changes in

New Cardinal

Here is the latest studio portrait of the Most Rev. Arthur Hinsley, archbishop of Westminster, who is one of the five new cardinals named recently by Pope Pius XI. The son of a Yorkshire carpenter, Dr. Hinsley attracted national attention when he defended Italy's program of conquest in Ethiopia after it had been denounced by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The world championship, it is provided, shall be held between champions teams of both divisions during the congress of the host division. If it is accepted it means that the world championship will be held once every two years, alternating from one side of the Atlantic to the other.

English is to be the official language of the superior council. The British Bridge Magazine and the American Bridge World are the official organs of the superior council.

Approval of the proposals by the 100 conference will clear the way for final consummation of the organization.

EXPLAINED
Concerning the use of lumber in heavy construction, he said that by using a new "ring-connector" process in joining pieces of lumber to other, tremendous strength is gained. He pointed out that buildings now being erected on "Treasure Island," site of the Golden Gate International exposition in San Francisco Bay, were constructed in this manner.

More than 8,000 structures, which formerly would have been constructed with steel frames, are being built with wood frames since adoption of the new joining process, Grealey said.

RECORD OUTPUT PREDICTED IN LUMBER IN 1938

Timber Authority Expects General Boom From Low Cost Homes

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—The 1938 lumber industry will reach a volume unsurpassed by former records, Col. William B. Grealey, head of the West Coast Lumbermen's association, predicted here.

Grealey was chief forecaster of the United States for eight years and is regarded as one of America's foremost forestry authorities. "Lumber has been slow since the spring, but we expect 1938 to reach a volume unsurpassed by any of our records," Grealey said.

Commenting on the New Orleans convention of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, Grealey said two main topics were discussed: First, lumber's part in the production of low-cost homes; under the Federal housing administration plan, and second, lumber's new role in heavy construction.

MODEL HOMES BELT
He explained that the lumber industry had built in Washington, D.C., the FHA low-cost model homes, all of which sold for less than $2,500, including the lot on which they were erected.

"This led," he said, "to construction of more than 3,000 in all parts of the country, all within the cost limits."

Grealey said the demand for these homes far exceeded the number available. He said that for the three "model" homes constructed in Washington, there were more than 300 applicants.

"This year," Grealey said, referring to the coming 1938 season, "lumbermen will build eight model homes, waiting in price from $2,000 to $4,200—all 100 per cent lumber."

NEW CONSTRUCTION
Concerning the use of lumber in heavy construction, he said that by using a new "ring-connector" process in joining pieces of lumber to other, tremendous strength is gained. He pointed out that buildings now being erected on "Treasure Island," site of the Golden Gate International exposition in San Francisco Bay, were constructed in this manner.

CITY CHURCH ACTIVITIES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
At all Christian Science Churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Christian Science." The following is one of the Scriptural quotations contained in the Lesson-Sermon: "Jesus answered them, and said: My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent Me. If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself" (John 7:16, 17). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with the Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is as follows (page 274): "Divine Science is absolute, and permits no half-way position in learning its principle and rule—establishing it by demonstration."

UNITED CHURCH IS PROGRESSING

A heartening response has been forthcoming to the Call to Advance issued by the general council of the United Church of Canada at Ottawa in 1938, according to a statement issued by officials.

Services are being held in many districts. There are many groups studying the reports of the Ottawa and Edinburgh conferences.

There will be wide recognition of the week of prayer and the Lenten season.

Rev. T. Albert Moore, D.D., former moderator of the general council, is completing a four month preaching mission.

Progress is reported in co-operating efforts with other churches in joint evangelizing. Joint groups have been organized in the Prince Albert, Saskatoon and Regina areas. This work has the active support of the Anglican bishops, Presbyterian, Baptist and Salvation Army leaders.

CHURCHES WILL FEATURE MUSIC

City churches are featuring special Christmas music at their services on Sunday, with many selecting carols and others either a sacred or vocal work or excerpts therefrom.

Practically all churches have arranged to feature music at both Sunday services.

On Sunday evening at Knox United Church the Junior and Senior Chorus will present a program of Christmas music under the direction of Mr. M. Weaver, organist. The program will consist of soloists, carols, hymns, etc. A special feature will be the singing of "The Christmas Carol" by Percy Humphrey will also render several selections. Soloists taking part are as follows: Mrs. H. Miller, Mrs. F. G. Suberland, Miss Alberta Kent, Mrs. Adam Smith, Miss Jack Williams, J. W. Mr. Thompson. The traditional carol "We Three Kings" will be rendered in costume by Leslie Burrows, L. Buchanan and Frank Williams. The title will be led by Gustav Lindskog, violinist.

SALVATION ARMY LIKES ACCORDION

Have they come to stay, asks the British Salvation Army War Cry, referring to the piano accordion and presenting a full page of pictures of British officers equipped with these music making instruments.

In western Canada, with its dry climate, the officers, young and old, have realized the need for considerable support for their voices in singing hymns and street, and large numbers of them, both men and women, have become expert in the use of the instrument.

Many young officers, without this instrument, is obviously at a disadvantage and many find it a great help.

At Holloway, England, it is said the first piano accordion band had been formed, and formally commissioned with eight players and they have had many calls and invitations to other corps. At Sherburn, England, the piano accordion band has been found so attractive that the Home Leagues, an organization wholly of women, talks of forming one of its own.

On this side of the Atlantic the corps of the Army at Kentucky has a group of eight, regarded as particularly skilful.

Winthrop officers say that the instrument is easier to play than the cornet and anticipate that many Canadian officers will take it up.

Vancouver Gets Welcome Gift

VANCOUVER, Dec. 24.—Rev. T. Fry's English friends sent the Vancouver Corps a money order for $175.00 to be used in building a new church in the east end of the city. Mr. Fry declined to name the district. He is present rector of St. Margaret's Free Church of England.

FIRE DAMAGES ROBERTS BLOCK ON 102 STREET

Thursday Evening Blaze
Gives City Firemen
Stubborn Battle

Starting from an explosion of undetermined cause, fire broke out in the basement of the Roberts block, a three-story brick structure, at 1021 102nd street, shortly before 8 p.m. Thursday and gave firemen a stubborn fight before it was extinguished. A little less than an hour after the alarm had been turned in.

Dense smoke and the intense heat made the work of the firemen from No. 2 and No. 6 fire halls, who were personally directed by Fire Chief A. Dalton, particularly difficult. They were driven back from the smoking interior several times and finally were forced to don respirators when they carried the hose into the basement to fight the fire at its heart. The intense heat caused the water to freeze immediately, adding the hazard of slippery footing to the others of fire and smoke.

The alarm was turned in by Rod Morrison, a corner man on the third floor of the building, who said that he heard an explosion. Investigations later showed the blast had blown the windows out of the west end of the basement.

Basement of the building is occupied by the J. W. Kilgour and Fraser, Limited, which is a furniture company whose local agent is E. Fraser, Main floor is occupied by the Northern Electric Company.

By second floor is a restaurant, and the top floor is divided into suites and rented to individuals for living purposes. The building is owned by the T. Eaton Co. Western, Ltd., and is rented by H. M. E. Evans Company.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE
Damage to the main floor was extensive, the furniture being almost completely lost due to fire and water damage. The Northern Electric premises on the main floor suffered badly from fire and water, while the second floor was badly damaged by smoke.

Damage to the third floor was not serious and was mainly due to water.

Fire Marshal Jack Bots was investigating the cause of the fire Friday morning. Estimate of damage was not available early Friday, other than that it was extensive and mostly covered by insurance.

ALL PEOPLE'S MISSION HAS VULE PROGRAM

ALL PEOPLE'S MISSION has been in the midst of an active Christmas program during the past few days.

Activities began with a kindergarten at all three main Christmas services were held, and White Gift programs were the feature in all the Sunday Schools.

On Sunday afternoon at Bussell Memorial, the Japanese congregation met for worship, conducted by Rev. J. T. Stephens, after which all partook of the annual Christmas dinner in the dining room.

Sunday School Christmas trees have been held at Beverly, Buchanan and Bussell during the week with treats provided for eight hundred children.

Services next Sunday will feature, at Bussell and at Buchanan, a program "A Star in the Night," at the evening service.

Monday evening the gathering will wind up with a concert for Christmas children under Mr. Harold Miller.

Distribution of Christmas hampers began on Thursday and will continue through the night.

The mission appreciates very much the interest and generous help of the work people.

Mayor John W. Fry issued the following Christmas message to citizens of Edmonton:

"On the eve of Christmas I want to extend my personal Yuletide greetings to every citizen in Edmonton with the hope they will experience one of the merriest holidays they have yet enjoyed."

He also extended to citizens the season's greetings on behalf of city council and the whole civic service.

On the eve of Christmas of 1937 it is my hope that all the answers might be construed as a Christmas message for the fair city.

Nevertheless, being a slave to duty, I feel compelled to ask it, especially as the Christmas season is fast approaching.

It is my sincere hope that every man, woman and child in Edmonton will have a merriest Christmas possible."

THE CIVIL CLOCK closed 3 p.m. Friday for the long holiday, and will not open again until 9 a.m. Tuesday morning.

In common with the rest of the citizens, the city hall staff is observing the Boxing Day holiday Monday.

Bulletin's Contest Best Ever Declares Major Prize Winner

ALLAN JOHN McCULLOUGH got Loads of Fun Working Advertisers' Puzzles—Will Carry Good News To Folks In Westlock

"I got a lot of fun out of working The Bulletin Advertisers' Puzzle Contest and I'm certainly glad I won the car."

These were the first words uttered by Allan John McCullough, 24, of 11132 96 street, after being informed by a Bulletin representative, Friday, that he had been successful in winning first prize in the competition. The award is a 1938 model Packard touring coach.

Mr. McCullough, pharmacist in a downtown drug store, fairly burst with happiness as he told a reporter what he planned to do with his prize. "I've got an old car, but it's pretty well worn out now," he laughed. "The new car is a real treat. The Bulletin will certainly be a big improvement over the one I'm driving now."

Yesterday he received a lot of fun working the puzzle contest. It was a good thing, for he has won a lot of prizes in the past.

Some of the pictures were fairly easy to solve, but they certainly got harder toward the last.

"I was very careful in getting my answers," he said. "I only made one mistake."

A fellow who gets a prize like this one is a lucky fellow. He gets a lot of fun out of it, and he gets a lot of money out of it.

SIX Tournament Is Postponed Due To Ice Conditions

The local six tournament which was planned by the Edmonton Skating Club, has been postponed until sometime in January, due to the ice conditions on the rink at the Cornhill Road skating rink.

The club is endeavoring to have the rink open by the middle of the month, and also a smaller rink for new beginners.

FAR NORTHERN POSTS TO FETE THIS YULETIDE

Great Doings in the Land
Of Muckluks, Caribou
and Eskimo

CHESTERFIELD INLET, Dec. 24.—For several days Komatiks (Esquimaux) hauled by eight-dog teams have been dashing into Chesterfield amid much barking and howling. As soon as a dog team with its human freight arrives, the natives build themselves a snow igloo with four windows and in a few hours have made themselves at home. If they intend to stay several days each native family erects two or more igloos and connects them with snow tunnels.

More than 150 natives have arrived for the holidays and a whole village of igloos has sprung up. With them came 225 dogs. These hardy animals do not take kindly to dogs of other teams and every day three or four gallops, particularly around feeding times. The dogs live on walrus and seal meat.

The winter so far has not been cold. The coldest was 37 degrees below zero but the ice covers the land so far as one can see and it is no less of an ice field than the sea. Fishing through the ice has been good, trout 15 inches long being quite common.

Big Broadcast At Nottingham

NOTTINGHAM ISLAND, N.W.T. Dec. 24.—The radio station at Nottingham Island is giving a live broadcast on Christmas Day. It is located in the middle of the government archipelago in the Arctic.

The Christmas messages to Ottawa were read through the station. Afternoon it will be the centre of an exchange of greetings not only with the big stations of the world, but also with the many small amateur stations scattered as far north as the Arctic near the top of Baffin Island.

The natives here on Christmas get a great thrill when they are allowed to talk over the air to their friends and relatives on the mainland. The Eskimos take the time to make the most of their chance. They never exhibit any nervousness.

A big dance is planned for the night with the phonograph and radio providing the music.

Turkey and Pudding At Resolution Island

RESOLUTION ISLAND, N.W.T. Dec. 24.—Down at 10 a.m. tomorrow will find the cook of this Arctic outfit on the Arctic preparing a Christmas dinner of turkey, plum pudding and other delicacies. In the settlement already existing in the middle of the island, the Eskimos will spend their Christmas day.

After a busy day of work, the natives will spend their Christmas day in a most interesting way.

They will drink a toast before dinner and then they will all sit down at a long table and eat their Christmas dinner.

After the dinner, the natives will spend the evening in a most interesting way.

GREAT BRITAIN PREPARES FOR HORRORS IN AIR

Terrible Pictures Painted
Of Death and Destruction

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Special Staff Writer
LONDON, Dec. 24.—Horrible pictures have been painted of the death and destruction which will be wrought by enemy air-raiders in the next war.

Plans are being made by British authorities for construction of huge air-raid shelters, schemes studied for wholesale evacuation of cities, millions of gas masks distributed throughout the land, incendiary and anti-gas, anti-aircraft, every phase of precaution is being considered.

Yet, if Britain becomes engulfed in another war, there is a terrifying picture in store for attacking airmen—more terrifying than anything conceived during the Great War.

The reasons of national interest little can be divulged about the future plans to meet the challenge of the air invader during war-time.

But London and other British cities will be an easy target for enemy bombs.

Perfection of a secret system of defense has been made by aviation officials. The so-called "bailout" plan is being studied.

It would provide "uncomfortably little" for the evacuation of London.

Air-Commander J. G. Heaton, one of the principal air-defense officers, has been quoted as saying that such a plan is "uncomfortably little" for the evacuation of London.

Paris Hails Time-Expired
Sergeant As New
"White Horse"

PARIS, Dec. 24.—The famed French Foreign Legion which glories in the fighting record of its members, has finally turned out a prizefighter worthy of that crack outfit.

Francis Jacques, 25, recently discharged from the legion after his five years' enlistment had expired, laid aside his sergeant's stripes, but went on fighting.

He was sent to St. Etienne, the legion's home camp, and from there he went down four times before being counted out.

A native Parisian, Jacques was studying law in Paris when his desire for learning and he ran away from home.

Princess-to-be

Struck By Auto, Carried To City Barns, Owner Finds
Animal Alive

The strange story of a dog that was given up for dead, tossed into a city dump wagon, and later recovered by an anxious owner and nursed back to life, has aroused a lot of interest around the city police station during the past week.

The dog, a wire-haired terrier, that answers to the name of Terry, is a highly esteemed member of the household of A. R. McLennan, 1004 107 street, well known Edmonton businessman.

Last Tuesday, about 5 p.m., Terry was run over by a truck as he tried to cross the road in front of the McLennan house. The truck driver, seeing the dog lying apparently dead on the road, tossed it into the gutter. A moment later, a city dump wagon on the way to the barns stopped and the driver tossed the dog into the wagon.

WENT TO CITY BARN
That evening, Mr. McLennan decided that the dog ought to have a decent burial so he went down to the city barns.

He looked through every stall in the barns and was unable to give up the search when the attendant pointed out a stall that he had missed. He went over to it and there sat Terry, weakly wagging his tail.

Mr. McLennan took the dog home, nursed it that night and on Wednesday took it down to a vet at Fort Saskatchewan.

Reports Friday were that the dog was well on his way to recovery, and McLennan's expectation to have him home for New Year's.

THIS WORLD'S TEMPERATURE

THE EARTH DEPENDS ENTIRELY UPON THE SUN FOR HEAT AND LIGHT, WITHOUT WHICH WE COULD NOT LIVE. CURIOUSLY, AT THIS TIME...MID-WINTER IN THE NORTHERN HEMISPHERE... THE SUN IS AT ITS NEAREST DISTANCE/ IN JULY, IT IS FARTHEST AWAY.

COPY, 1937 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

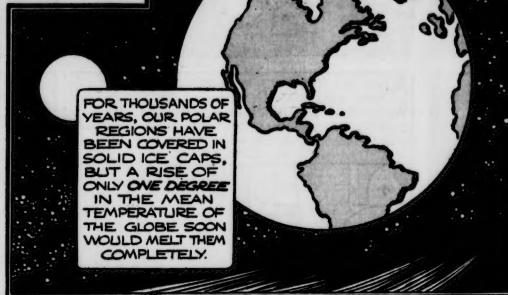

AT VERKHNOYANSK, IN NORTHERN SIBERIA, TEMPERATURES DROP TO NINETY DEGREES BELOW ZERO.

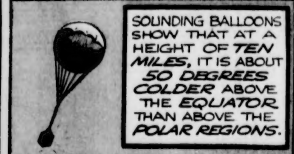

AT AZIZIA, IN NORTHERN AFRICA, THE THERMOMETER REGISTERED 136 DEGREES IN THE SHADE, ON SEPTEMBER 13, 1922.

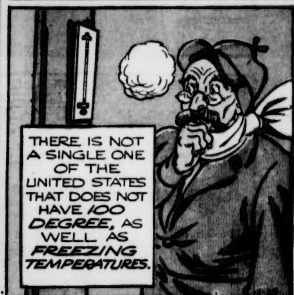

COLD, WINTER TEMPERATURES ARE THE RESULT OF THE SLOPING ANGLE AT WHICH THE SUN'S RAYS STRIKE THE SURFACE OF THE EARTH... DUE TO THE FACT THAT, AT THIS TIME, OUR AXIS TIPS US AWAY FROM THE SUN.

FOR THOUSANDS OF YEARS, OUR POLAR REGIONS HAVE BEEN COVERED IN SOLID ICE CAPS, BUT A RISE OF ONLY ONE DEGREE IN THE MEAN TEMPERATURE OF THE GLOBE SOON WOULD MELT THEM COMPLETELY.

SOUNDING BALLOONS SHOW THAT AT A HEIGHT OF TEN MILES, IT IS ABOUT 50 DEGREES COLDER ABOVE THE EQUATOR THAN ABOVE THE POLAR REGIONS.

THERE IS NOT A SINGLE ONE OF THE UNITED STATES THAT DOES NOT HAVE 100 DEGREE, AS WELL AS FREEZING TEMPERATURES.
